Who we are: Dainty Dames Events is owned and operated by Renee Dorian Begley and Jillian Burgos. The Dames began their new endeavor in early 2013 after working together on other projects since 2009. With Jillian's background in writing & forensics and Renee's background in writing & producing, they realized they made a great team! They went on to write their first interactive murder mystery show, which would later result in a long term contract with a prominent venue in Hollywood. Since that first show, they have produced more than 300 shows in various locations all over the West Coast, including but not limited to: Temecula, Anaheim, San Francisco, San Diego, Burbank, and more.

With the ongoing COVID-19 restrictions, the Dames have been working tirelessly to adapt their entertaining and engaging events for a virtual platform. Our updated Murder...Without a Clue! virtual event retains the high energy and hilarious interactivity of our in person events, all from the safety of your own home!

MURDER...WITHOUT A CLUE! VIRTUAL EVENT

You're invited to Colonel Grady Poupon's latest Zoom PR stunt...er, we mean, "fundraising gala," to wine and dine with fellow billionaires and bid on the most spectacular jewels you've ever seen. Join Butler Phillip Lads and Maid Blanca Ca (two of the Colonel's most witty and attractive staff members) for a night of luxury, gossip, and backstabbing--not literally, of course! ...We think...

We are thrilled to share this virtual version of our most popular murder mystery event, redesigned to enjoy from the comfort of your own home. Throughout the evening, our professional actors will guide you through various games, an in-home scavenger hunt, trivia, and more. Each guest will receive their very own character/suspect and top-secret materials. Collect clues, interrogate fellow guests, and catch a killer before they strike again!
